WORLD LEAGUE COVENANT IS

PARIS, April 12. (By the Associated Press.)—The league of nations commission completed its comsideration of the leage covenant at its meeting last night. No sections were included granting the Japanese and French demands, but Japan and France announced that they would reserve the right to bring up the desired amendments before the plenary session of the peace conference.

With the single exception of the amendment specifically exempting the Monroe dectrine from being affected by the covenant, no vital chase was made by the commission in the documend of the labor committee.

Sees War Plant.

Of all the war plants, the one that interested me most was that of the Lincoln Motor company which was built in three months and fen months after steam was turned on it was producing 50 Liberty motors a day in contrast to the ledding English manufacturer which with three years experience was turning out 50 motors a week. The Lincoln plant turned them out finally at 85 a day.

What will become of this plant? I asked W C. Leland, who, with his father designed the Cadillac. They are not ready to amounce their plans, whether it shall be motor trucks, pleasuse cars or simply motors, but from airplane motors to automobiles again, that's the process here, and Detroit has added another big institution to its army of plants which make most of the automobiles for the American people.

its army of plants which make most of the automobiles for the American people.

Neither Democrats nor Republicans seem to be losing sleep about the prospects of the Democratic administration succeeding itself. But thoughtful opinion of both parties seems to accept the league of nations as an inevitable and necessary outcome of the peace conference at Paris.

Senator Truman Newberry signed the famous Republican round robin and he toid me today that of the letters he received about 40 per cent were against and 60 per cent for his action, and that letters since received showed that much interest was being taken in the kind of amendments being offered. The senator is in favor of an international concert of power and of course wants to have a look at the amended constitution before he says what his vote will be, but in all probability will line up with the majority party on the final roll call. The new senator from Michigan used to be assistant secretary of the navy and served as a commander in the navy during the war. Undoubtedly he will become a member of the senate navil affairs committee, thereby establishing the rare precedent in that committee of having a man who actually knows something about the navy from first hand contact.

Mr. Newberry is also a successful business man who, one imagines, will keep an eye on expenditures of money, which is something about the navy from first hand contact.

Mr. Newberry is also a successful business man who, one imagines, will keep an eye on expenditures of money, which is something too, folks in this vicinity believe, ought to be done; in fact, they would prefer that $\frac{9}{2} pairs of eyes be kept on the money pile in these days of billion-dollar habits and pair-ful income taxes. This is a Republican state and Democrats are not very aggressive.

Missed Big Chance.

What chance the president had to rejuvenate and regenerate the Democratic party and make it attractive to the young men of the state was thrown away by the politicians of the Wilson cabinet by their discrimination in favor of the oid-line Democrats. But all species of Democrats seem to think Wilson stock has been steadily decliming since "that letter" last fall, adjectives describing which vary with the locality but are equal in descriptive intensity.

As for the president, the hopes and "Democracy won—on paper," Mr. Waldo continued, "but there will be no democracy until every child gets a fair chance for education."

Paderewski has now come to Paris t plead the cause of Poland. He has declared—and no one doubts his statement—that if Poland is denied her rightful exit to the sea, her economic independence of Germany, particularly after this gift has not only been promised her, but indorsed by expert commission of the conference, nothing can prevent an immediate Bolshevik revolution in the Polish state, and the permanent loss to Western Europe of yet another of the smaller countries which were natural allies in western sins in the east.

President Wilson, having first accepted the solution which gave Dantsig and the corridor to Poland, has changed has changed from and is prepared to support the old arrangements. President Wilson stands firm against giving Dantsig to Poland, and inclines to favor creating an international free city for could insure the salvation of Poland. The question is now to become one of the critical issues of the whole Paris conference. Poland is not yet lost, either to Bolshevism or to the Attorney-General Asks President to Act Leniently Unon Many Cases.

WASHI, GTON, April 12.-Recommendation of executive elemency for 52 persons convicted under the espionage act have been sent to President Wilson by Attorney-General Palmer, but the names and commutation in each case will not be announced until the president has acted. This is in line with the policy of clemency inaugurated by Thomas W. Gregory as attorney-general and approved by President Wilson

Thomas W. Gregory as attorney-general and approved by President Wilson several weeks ago through extension of clemency in 55 cases.

"In this connection," said Attorney-General Palmer in an announcement, "I desire to call attention to the exaggerated figures which are being used by persons agitating for what is called a general annesty to political prison-ers; so exaggerated, in fact, that I can not help suspecting the overstatement to be deliberate.

"When this investigation of the espionage act cases began about two months ago a total number of persons confined in juils and penitentiaries for violation of the espionage act was only 238. Of these, the sentences of 55 have since expired and five have been parroled, leaving 179 now in confinement. In about 30 of these cases the sentences have already been commuted, and I have now recommended commutations in 52 more. These figures do not include the I. W. W. group of cases in Chicago and California, which would add 121 to the number. Of these many, however, recently have been released on bail.

"There are men in prison because of the expression of their views on social, economic or political questions, including the war. Besides, the above figures do not all represent men prosecuted for what they said or published. Many obstructed the draft in other ways, as, for instance, by armed resistance, by stirring up finaudulent claims for exemption from military and other methods. In fact, meny of them violated the selective service law as well as the espionage law.

"It thus appears that current statements to the effect that there are 1,500 political prisoners in the penitentiaries and jails of the country are the result of either frenzied imagination or deliberate intent to deceive the public."
